1.0 SUMMARY

From 4th - 8th December 2011, Swale and Thames Archaeological Survey Company (SWAT Archaeology) carried out an Archaeological Watching Brief on the site of an extension of a grain store on land at Court Lodge Farm, Church Lane, Aldington, Kent, TN25 7EG.

The works were carried out on behalf of G.L. Boulden & Sons and consisted of excavation of made up ground to facilitate the building of a grain store extension and car parking. Planning Application Number: 10/01642/AS).

The Watching Brief revealed no archaeological features.

2.0 INTRODUCTION

2.1 Planning Background

A planning application (PAN:10/01642/AS) for the construction of a grain store extension and car parking was submitted to Ashford Borough Council. Kent County Council Heritage and Conservation (KCCHC), on behalf of Ashford Borough Council requested that an Archaeological Watching Brief be undertaken in order to record any archaeological remains uncovered during associated groundworks. The following condition was attached to the planning consent:

9. No development shall take place until the applicant, or their agents or successors in title, has secured the implementation of a watching brief to be undertaken by an archaeologist approved by the Local Planning Authority so that the excavation is observed and items of interest and finds are recorded. The watching brief shall be in accordance with a written programme and specification, which has been submitted to and approved by the Local Planning Authority.

1

2.2 Schedule of Visits

An Archaeologist attended the site and monitored excavation works on the following dates: 4th – 8th December 2011.

2.3 Aims and Objectives

The purpose of the monitoring and recording, as specified by Kent County Council was to:

'contribute to the heritage knowledge of the area through the recording of any archaeological remains exposed as a result of excavations in connection with the groundworks. (KCC 2010:1.3)

2.4 Proposed Groundworks

The groundworks involved:

- The excavation of made-up ground to facilitate the construction of a grain store extension and car park

2.5 Confidence Rating

No factors hindered the recognition of archaeological and geological deposits during the monitoring and recording exercise.

3.0 ARCHAEOLOGICAL & GEOLOGICAL BACKGROUND

The underlying geology at the site according to the British Geological Survey map is Lower Greensand of the Hythe Formation. (KCC 2011:1.7). Modern levelling deposits consisting of mid to dark brown silty clays were exposed in the excavation.

Topographically the site slopes dramatically downhill towards the northeast, and an abundance of this silty clay levelling deposit, along with ragstone rubble from a neighbouring quarry, was imported in the second half of the 20th century to create a level farmyard.

According to the County HER, the site lies c. 60m north of the remains of the 14th century Archbishop of Canterbury's Palace at Court Lodge Farmhouse, now a Grade II* building (TR 03 NE 166). The site is also c. 80m north of the Grade I listed 12th century St. Martin's Church (TR 03 NE 130). A number of listed structures on the farm include 19th century barns and cartsheds (TR 03 NE 184) c. 50m southwest of the farmhouse, early 19th century stockyards and sheds (TR 03 NE 143) c. 75m west of the farmhouse, 18th century stable/barn (TR 03 NE 86) c. 50m west of the farmhouse, and a lychgate and quadrant walls, constructed in 1904 attached to the churchyard of St Martin's (TR 03 NE 104).

4.0 METHODOLOGY

The Watching Brief was conducted in accordance with the specification compiled by Kent County Council Heritage and Conservation and it also complied with the Institute of Field Archaeologists' Standards and Guidance for Archaeological Watching Briefs (1999). The works comprised the observation of all groundworks, including the inspection of subsoil and natural deposits for archaeological features and finds.

5.0 RESULTS

5.1 General

Reduction of the farmyard surface by machine under archaeological supervision exposed made-up ground until some natural ragstone outcrops were revealed (Plate 2) interspersed with modern brown silty clay dumped levels. No archaeological features were recorded.

6.0 FINDS

No archaeological features present and no finds were retrieved.

7.0 DISCUSSION

The Archaeological Watching Brief carried out at Court Lodge Farm, Aldington revealed that no archaeological features were present.

8.0 CONCLUSION

The Archaeological Watching Brief has fulfilled the primary aims and objectives of the Specification. No buried archaeological features have been affected as a result of the development.

9.0 ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

SWAT Archaeology would like to thank G.L. Boulden & Sons for commissioning the project. Thanks are also extended to Heritage and Conservation (Kent County Council).
